

Centre for Information Policy Leadership (CIPL) Roundtable Discussion on:

U.S. Privacy in the Wake of the 2020 Election

Thursday, November 12, 2020

8:00 AM – 9:30 AM PST | 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM EST | 4:00 PM – 5:30 PM London

AGENDA

CIPL will be holding a virtual roundtable discussion to consider the outcome and impact of the 2020 election on U.S. privacy law in the coming years. We are planning to discuss how a Biden presidency and a still-undecided Senate could impact the federal and state privacy discussions, as well as how CIPL's role in the U.S. privacy discussion might change as a result.

11:00 AM      Opening Remarks

- ❖ Bojana Bellamy, President, CIPL
- ❖ Lisa Sotto, Partner, Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
- ❖ Terry McAuliffe, Global Strategy Advisor, CIPL and Former Governor of Virginia

11:30 AM      Discussion Topic: The Impact of the 2020 Election on U.S. Privacy Law

Participants will engage in an open discussion on how the results of the 2020 election could impact privacy law discussions at the federal and state levels. In particular, we will discuss the following questions:

- How high of a priority will privacy legislation be for a Biden administration?
- Is it more or less likely that we will see the passage of a federal privacy law?
- How will the contents of a federal privacy law be impacted?
- What particular issues, such as preemption and private right of action, are most likely to be affected?
- What are the new opportunities or challenges to enact a modern, forward-looking privacy law fit for the digital economy and society?
- What do we expect to see at the state level in 2021? Will state activity be impacted by the election results? Could state activity next year impact the federal discussion?
- Are we more likely to see a Privacy Shield replacement? Could the timeline for a new agreement be impacted?
- What do we expect to see from an FTC with a Democratic majority?

- ❖ Moderator: Matt Starr, Privacy and Public Policy Manager, CIPL

12:00 PM      Discussion Topic: CIPL's Role in U.S. Privacy in 2021 and Beyond

Participants will discuss the role CIPL can play in the U.S. privacy discussion given the election results. In particular we will discuss the following questions:

Centre for Information Policy Leadership
— HUNTON ANDREWS KURTH —

- What particular issues in federal privacy law should CIPL focus on? Should CIPL develop a position on a private right of action?
- Does CIPL need to alter its policy strategy and goals given the election results?
- How can CIPL best get involved at the state level?

12:30 PM

End of Roundtable
