CIPL

Centre for Information Policy Leadership
HUNTON ANDREWS KURTH

CEDIS

Centro de Direito,
Internet e Sociedade

The case for an effective Brazil Data Protection Authority - the priorities of the Agência Nacional de Proteção de Dados

Effective regulation depends on effective strategies to make the best possible use of available resources. This includes prioritizing and concentrating on regulatory activities that promise the best outcomes for individuals and society.

Defining its strategy

Recognizing best-in-class privacy programs

Providing guidance

Interpreting the LGPD

Providing technical standards

Enabling international data transfers

Educating on data protection matters

Preparing for LGPD enforcement

To access the full paper and more information about the CIPL-CEDIS LGPD project, click here.